The analysis is decision-ready because the data was cleaned first

The workflow moved from raw files to a usable decision base.

Four source files

Customers, orders, order items, and products across 28,543 rows and 21 columns.

199 prices matched

Missing unit prices were matched to product list prices.

7,834 discounts normalized

Blank discount codes became “No Discount”.

38 duplicates identified

Duplicate order values were identified before loading the cleaned data into MySQL.

Organic search is the volume engine, referral is the loyalty signal

Channel	Orders	Orders per customer	Total purchase value
Organic search	3,742	4.95	835,094
Paid search	1,376	4.10	317,942
Referral	1,348	5.29	298,062
Email	1,269	4.55	277,515
Paid social	1,142	2.98	256,146
Affiliate	330	3.40	67,684

Organic search drives scale while referral drives repeat behavior. Paid social had the lowest repeat rate at 2.98 orders per customer, despite 1,142 orders.

Furniture leads revenue, but the category mix is uneven

RECORDED REVENUE BY CATEGORY

Category	Revenue
Furniture	373,121
Kitchen	301,373
Decor	298,262
Storage	149,306
Bath	117,416

Furniture

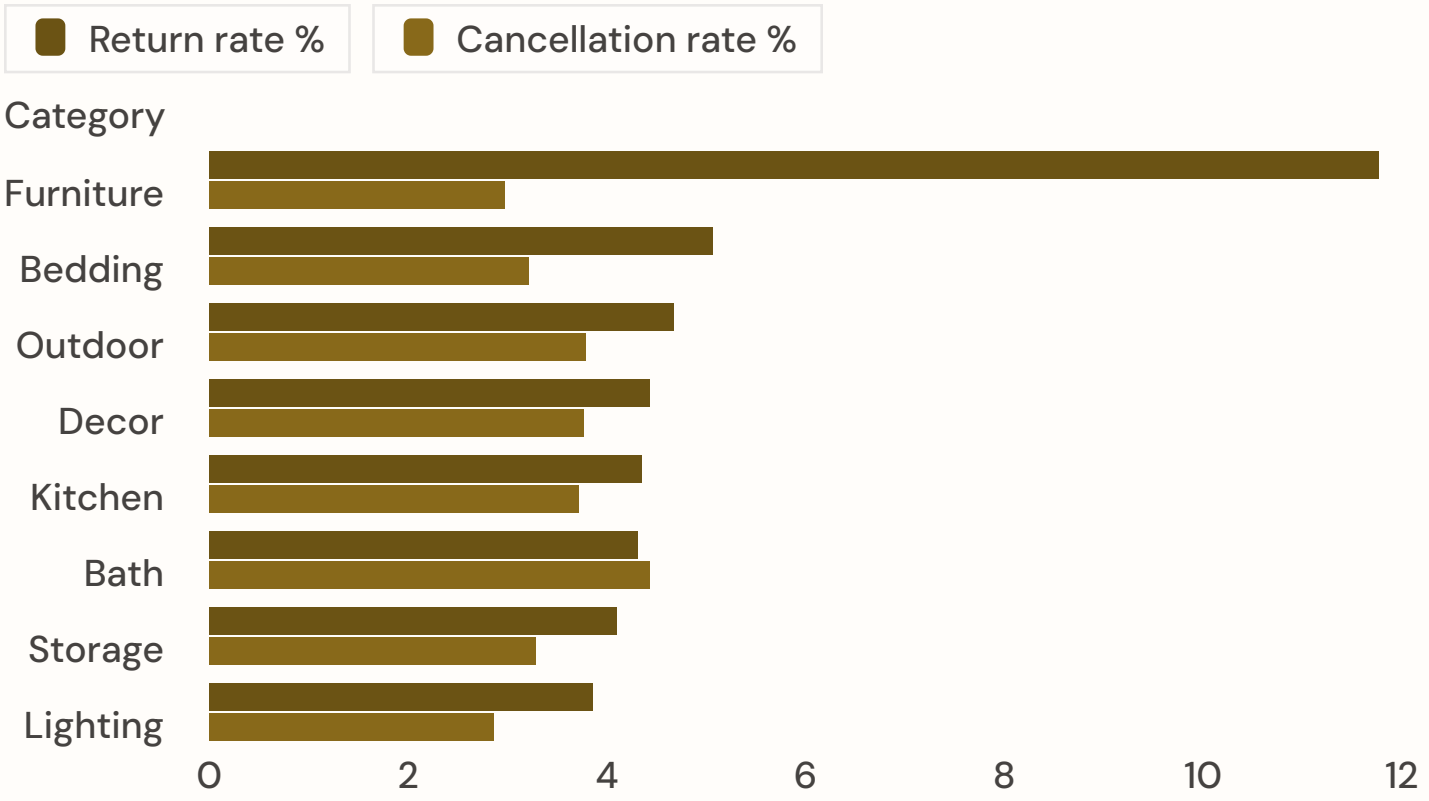

The revenue leader

Furniture’s revenue leadership is not matched by unit volume, which suggests a high-value but higher-friction category.

Bath and storage are the weakest revenue categories.

Made with GAMMA

Furniture is the clear return-rate outlier

RETURN RATE

11.77%

Furniture, more than double the 4.10%–5.07% range of the other categories.

Bedding followed at 5.07%. Lighting was lowest at 3.86% and also had the lowest cancellation rate at 2.86%.

Prioritize root-cause analysis on product expectations, fulfillment, and fit before scaling Furniture demand.

Made with GAMMA

Bath needs cancellation work before more demand is added

HIGHEST CANCELLATION RATES

4.43%

Bath

Followed by outdoor at 3.79% and decor at 3.77%.

OPERATIONAL WORKLOAD

Use two lenses

Kitchen had the highest raw counts of canceled and returned orders, but its larger order base changes the interpretation.

Use category rates for prioritization and raw counts for operational workload planning.

Best sellers cluster tightly in units, but revenue varies widely

UNIT VELOCITY

355

Nordic Ornament Set

Led units sold. The top 15 products ranged from 355 to 260 units.

REVENUE CONTRIBUTION

43,892

Coastal Picture Frame Set

Led revenue despite ranking second in units sold.

Feature decisions should use both unit velocity and revenue contribution.

BASELINE METRIC

220.21

Average order value

Calculated as eligible revenue divided by eligible orders.

Repeat rate

Shows whether volume returns.

Return behavior

Shows whether growth is expensive.

Pair AOV with repeat rate and return behavior to distinguish profitable growth from expensive volume.

Focus the next actions on quality of growth

1. Reduce Furniture returns through product, fit, and fulfillment diagnosis
2. Investigate Bath cancellations before increasing acquisition spend
3. Protect Organic Search scale and study Referral’s repeat behavior
4. Audit Paid Social and Affiliate customer value before reallocating budget
5. Promote top-rated and best-selling products, using both units and revenue

Use the Power BI dashboard as the monitoring layer for category, channel, and order-quality follow-through

Monitor the quality of growth.
